

NO SLEEP FOR MOTHER

Baby Covered With Sores and Scales—Could Not Tell What She Looked Like—Marvelous Cure by Cuticura.

"At four months old my baby's face and body were so covered with sores and large scales you could not tell what she looked like. No child ever had a worse case. Her face was being eaten away, and even her finger nails fell off. It itched so she could not sleep, and for many weary nights we could get no rest. At last we got Cuticura Soap and Ointment. The sores began to heal at once, and she could sleep at night, and in one month she had not one sore on her face or body.—Mrs. Mary Sanders, 709 Spring St., Camden, N. J."

Army Service for Women.

A military man, writing for the Washington Post, says that Emperor William of Germany has devised a most remarkable scheme, of profound interest to women throughout the civilized world, the ultimate aim of which is nothing more nor less than rendering the fair sex liable to compulsory service in the army. True, he does not propose that they should swell the ranks of his mounted body of Amazons which he is alone among European sovereigns to possess; nor does he intend that they should be called upon to shoulder the rifle, to wield the saber, or to serve the guns. But he has in view the fulfillment of those particular duties in connection with the non-combatant departments of the army, such as, for instance, hospital work, clerical work, the preparation of supplies, etc., for all of which a training, to be furnished by the government, is required.

Took It All Back.

An excited military looking man entered the editorial sanctum of the Odessa (Missouri) Democrat, exclaiming: "That notice of my death is false, sir. I will horsewhip you within an inch of your life, sir, if you don't apologize in your next issue." The editor inserted the following the next day: "We regret to announce that the paragraph which stated that Major Blazer was dead is without foundation."

WOMEN OF INDIA TOIL HARD.

Have to Share in Endless Struggle for Existence With Men.

In the lower stratum of Hindu society women do not live the life of luxury and ease that is common among the upper classes, says the Calcutta Statesman. The great masses of small farmers, artisans and coolies earn so meager a livelihood that their lives are merely an endless struggle for existence, in which their wives have of necessity to do their share.

Not only is this true in the domestic affairs to which the women must attend, but not infrequently they are called upon to do the work of men, upon occasions even hiring out to perform various tasks, such as hauling a roller up a steep incline, doing mountain road repairing work. The team grasping the tugs fastened to either side of the huge heavy roller, drag it along the steep mountain road. While there workers perform their toilsome task, oftentimes there are men standing by who for various reasons may not lend their assistance. One perhaps is an overseer, another a water seller—a trade in itself—while others might be perfectly willing to carry hods, chop wood, or carry burdens—but haul a roller? Nay, nay! their caste would forbid it!

A curious custom obtains among the Goorgs. When one of them kills a tiger or a panther, he is married to the dead animal, regardless of its sex. Propped upon a framework of wood and bamboo, the animal is carried in procession and the marriage ritual is strictly observed, while lavish hospitality is dispensed.

FEARFUL SIGHT AT LIAOYANG.

Horrors of the Battlefield Depicted in True Colors.

Never will the few foreigners who saw the battlefield of Liaoyang on the morning of September 4 be able to dismiss from their memories the fearful sights they witnessed. Already, in the mists of early morning, hundreds and hundreds of crematory fires dotted the plain. Just a layer of firewood, then a layer of dead bodies, and above them another covering of fuel. As the flames crackled the dead shrank and shriveled and rose up, tortured, to sink back in ashes, while hideous skulls, with empty sockets, grinned through the quivering heat. The air reeked with the fumes of burning flesh, and the smoke blew scalding into one's eyes. Fuel was scarce and the dead numbered thousands, so as many more of the stiffened corpses were thrown thudding into the hollow trenches, in rows a hundred yards long, and covered from sight with a blanket of earth. The living, gaunt and tired, shuffled stumbly as they wearily dragged in the dead to pyre and pit, or piled up the rifles and ammunition belts of comrades who had served their country for the last time into huge stacks. Poor chaps! Eleven days of a carnival of war, and, after all, they had failed to accomplish their great purpose—the forcing of Kouropatkin into a decisive battle.—William Dinwiddie's War Correspondence, in Leslie's Weekly.

Changes.

Mourn, O rejoicing heart!
The hours are flying;
Each one some treasure takes,
Each one some blossom breaks.
And leaves it dying;
The chill dark night draws near,
Thy sun will soon depart,
And leave thee sighing;
Then mourn, rejoicing heart!
The hours are flying.

Rejoice, O grieving heart!
The hours fly fast!
With each some sorrow dies,
With each some shadow flies,
Until at last
The red dawn in the East
Bids weary night depart,
And pain is past.
Rejoice, then, grieving heart,
The hours fly fast.

SOLICITUDE FELT FOR MILITIA

Congressman Fears They Will Suffer If Quartered in Tents—But the Washington Post Thinks Tents Pretty Good for Soldiers.

"A military member of the inauguration committee" has been quoted as saying that the weather in early March next will be "too cold to allow the quartering of the troops in tents." Herein the gentleman refers to the quartering of such militia as may come to Washington for the purpose of participating in the inauguration of President Roosevelt. It is a proposition which will interest survivors of the Civil War.

During the midwinter campaigns of the early '60s, in the Ozarks, the Appalachian ranges, among the snows and storms of Virginia, Kentucky, Tennessee, North Carolina, Alabama, Arkansas and Mississippi, the soldier who had a tent, thought himself especially fortunate. Although he had to pitch it in a blizzard, and to dig through frozen crusts for the material of his camp fire, the right to use a tent for purposes of sleep appealed to him as the accomplished dream of happiness. Now, however, we are told that here in Washington, after every leisurely preparation, with all conceivable equipment of comfort and security, a tent will be "too cold" for the reserve soldiery of the United States—and in March at that!

It may be so. But in that case, either the tents of to-day are miserable travesties on the tents of forty years ago or the soldiers of 1905 are infinitely more deserving of solicitude than were their grandfathers, who fought and bled and shivered and starved on every storm-swept mountain side within the sphere of war. Just how this is, we do not undertake to say. Indeed, we fear the worst.—Washington Post.

THERE IS JUST ONE SURE WAY.

Dodd's Kidney Pills build up Run-down People. They make healthy Kidneys and that means healthy people. What Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Duffey say:

Nora, Ind., Feb. 6th.—(Special)—That the sure way of building up run-down men and women is to put their kidneys in good working order is shown by the experience of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph L. Duffey of this place. Both were weak and worn and dispirited. They used Dodd's Kidney Pills and to-day both enjoy the best of health.

Mr. Duffey says: "I was very weak and almost past going. I tried everything which people said was good but got no benefit till I tried Dodd's Kidney Pills. They helped me in every way and I am strong and well now."

Mrs. Duffey says: "I was so bad that if anybody would lay down a string I felt I could not step over it. Since taking Dodd's Kidney Pills I can run and jump fences."

Healthy kidneys insure pure blood; Dodd's Kidney Pills insure healthy kidneys.

AN OLD MAN'S TRIBUTE.

An Ohio Fruit Raiser, 78 Years Old, Cured of a Terrible Case After Ten Years of Suffering.

Sidney Justus, fruit dealer, of Mentor, Ohio, says: "I was cured by Doan's Kidney Pills of a severe case of kidney trouble, of eight or ten years' standing. I suffered the most severe backache and other pains in the region of the kidneys. These were especially severe when stooping to lift anything, and often I could hardly straighten my back. The aching was bad in the daytime, but just as bad at night, and I was always lame in the morning. I was bothered with rheumatic pains and dropsical swelling of the feet. The urinary passages were painful, and the secretions were discolored and so free that often I had to rise at night. I felt tired all day. Half a box served to relieve me, and three boxes effected a permanent cure."
